While it is often thought of as a law that gives women equal opportunities in athletics, Title IX is about so much more. Title IX also covers admissions, financial aid, housing, educational programs, campus safety (including sexual assault), and sex discrimination.

In honor of the 40th anniversary of Title IX, we wanted to take a moment to reflect on this major milestone.

Title

It's not just about sports!

Title IX states:

No person in the United States shall, on the basis of sex, be excluded from participation in, be denied the benefits of, or be subjected to discrimination under any education program or activity receiving Federal financial assistance.

The University’s Title IX coordinator is the Office of Equity and Diversity, which can be reached at oed@usc.edu, or (213) 740-5086.

Other available resources include:

Student Affairs
(213) 740-2421

Student Judicial Affairs and Community Standards (SJACS)

Center for Women and Men
(213) 740-4900

OED/Title IX/NOV2011

University of Southern California