Title IX is happening, here.
About ATIXA

Membership in the Association of Title IX Administrators (ATIXA) is an investment in professional development as well as a commitment to fostering and advancing gender equity within schools and colleges. ATIXA offers a nationwide network of Title IX peers to the thousands of professionals who comprise ATIXA’s members.

Together with the experts who serve as the ATIXA executive team and advisory board, this network provides the support and resources needed to tackle the challenges of compliance posed by Title IX every day.

A Message from the President,
Brett A. Sokolow, Esq.

ATIXA’s mission is to provide a professional association for school and college Title IX Administrators who are interested in serving their districts and campuses more effectively. ATIXA has grown to serve thousands of members across the nation, and continues to be the primary source for training and certification to school and campus Title IX administrators and investigators. Crucially, ATIXA has become the definitive repository of Title IX know-how needed and valued by our members.

Using our mission as our foundation, ATIXA has worked to strengthen and empower the Title IX field. The association works to remedy the effects of gender-based forms of discrimination through training, creating valuable resources for practitioners, and serving as the leading Title IX think tank for members, campuses, and the government.

One of our key services is keeping our members current on the ever-changing world of Title IX regulation, enforcement, and litigation. Through our listserv, weekly newsletters, and timely action alerts, we ensure that our members are not only aware of new regulations and mandates as they are released, but also that we provide timely and accurate interpretations of regulations and guidance on best practices for compliance.

ATIXA is an essential support system and ally in making gender equity in education a reality, where individuals and institutions can have confidence in their ability to work toward this goal within an ever-evolving legal framework and benefit from the support of colleagues whose efforts are leading their own campuses and schools ahead. The passion and hard work of our members is remarkable, and their dedication to their job and their cause is second to none. They motivate and influence the work we do, and we are privileged to serve such a dynamic, diverse, and passionate membership.
